

How many lawyers does it take to form a corporation?

We think at least one. Seems funny, but too many successful writers leave the formation of their corporations to a document filing service. Maybe it's just us, but proper liability protection and real tax benefits are no joke.

We form hundreds of companies each year. We combine solid legal advice with state-of-the-art technology and old-fashioned customer service. All for a flat charge. That's right – we're lawyers with no hourly rate.

Now that's a good idea.
